

October 06, 2007

Lightscaping makes or breaks a garden

If you are looking at lighting at the design stage, then the hunt is on for your lightscaper.

I found my gem. Well, I was helped by Charlotte Rowe (A-list garden designer in London). The gem is Light IQ .I researched the lead only to discover just how many also find them top of the class! In fact, I would have saved time by checking who their clients are: they have been working in exteriors for over ten years with the top industry names: Charlotte Rowe, Cameron Landscape, Arne Maynard, del buono Gazerwitz , Iain Macdonald, Stephen Woodhams

To view the original source of this article, click here.